

Name: Tim Marshall

Summary: Best Doctors enabled Tim to manage his multiple sclerosis

Background:

Tim had been diagnosed with a type of multiple sclerosis characterised by serious attacks followed by periods of near normal functioning. However, with no specific treatment recommendations, day-to-day life and the future were very uncertain.

That's why Tim contacted Best Doctors for help.

Treatment:

Best Doctors assigned an expert neurologist to Tim's case. He performed a thorough review and, confirming the original diagnosis, went on to recommend a first-line treatment to reduce the risk of relapse, advising of potential side effects.

Outcome:

With a plan to follow and options to choose from, the road ahead is brighter for Tim. He now has a better understanding of his condition and how to manage it, so he can get on with his life.
