

Name: Holly Mooney

Summary: Best Doctors' second opinion enabled Holly to walk

Background:

Diagnosed with a tumour in her thigh just before her third birthday, Holly endured chemotherapy, bone grafting and breakage that left one leg 12cm shorter than the other. Despite surgery and specialist consultations, the bone would not heal.

Holly and her family were told that nothing further could be done. It was at this point that Holly's parents got in touch with Best Doctors.

Treatment:

A world authority on bone reconstruction reviewed Holly's case and proposed not only repairing but also regrowing the bone. After Best Doctors arranged a consultation, Holly's parents decided to proceed with surgery.

Outcome:

From being unable to walk without an orthosis and crutches, within four months of her surgery Holly was walking all by herself.
